5th Annual Hudson Jazz Workshop

Hudson Jazzworks, Inc. presents the 5th Annual Hudson Jazz Workshop in Hudson, August 11-14. This inspiring and intimate workshop draws participants from around the world and around the block, many who are already accomplished professional musicians. A weekend immersion in Jazz improvisation and composition, HJW offers intensive study in a relaxed yet focused atmosphere with two of today's leading composers, recording artists and teachers of duo playing: pianist Armen Donelian, a Hudson resident, and saxophonist Marc Mommaas, a Dutch native and longtime New York City resident.

On Sunday, August 14, special guest renowned guitarist Vic Juris will join Donelian, Mommaas and the HJW participants. Juris will offer a morning Jazz Master Class at 10:30 a.m. at the HJW Studio. Musicians and students are especially invited. Admission is free to students under 21 years of age, $10 for adults. Due to limited seating, advance reservation is required. Please call 518-822-1640 to reserve a seat.

Later that afternoon at 3 p.m., at the Hudson Opera House, Juris, Donelian and Mommaas will give a free pre-concert Artists' Talk, followed by a Jazz Concert with the HJW participants playing their works in progress created during the workshop. Concert admission is free to students under 21 years of age, $10 for adults. Please call 518-822-1438 to reserve seats or visit www.hudsonoperahouse.org for more concert information. The Hudson Opera House is located at 327 Warren Street in Hudson.
